Marathon Petroleum Corporation

MPC is the third-largest U.S. refiner, with seven refineries that have the capacity to process approximately 1.8 million barrels of crude oil per day. MPC markets products through two retail brand names: Marathon and Speedway. The Marathon brand is an established motor fuel brand in the Midwest and Southeast regions of the U.S. and is available through approximately 5,500 locations owned by independent entrepreneurs in 19 states. Their Speedway LLC subsidiary owns and operates approximately 2,730 retail gasoline convenience stores in 21 states. MPC owns and operates 61 light-product terminals, and through their pipeline subsidiaries, they own, lease, or have an ownership interest in approximately 8,400 miles of crude and refined product pipelines in numerous states. In addition, MPC owns a biodiesel facility in Ohio and has an ownership position in three ethanol plants in the Midwest.
